Compilers note: Some people, including myself, believe that the draft (for the Union) and the conscription act (for the Confederacy), were unpopular government acts; and individuals who would have likely joined on their own were not going to be told that they were to serve, resulting in a desertion status for not appearing for induction into the service.

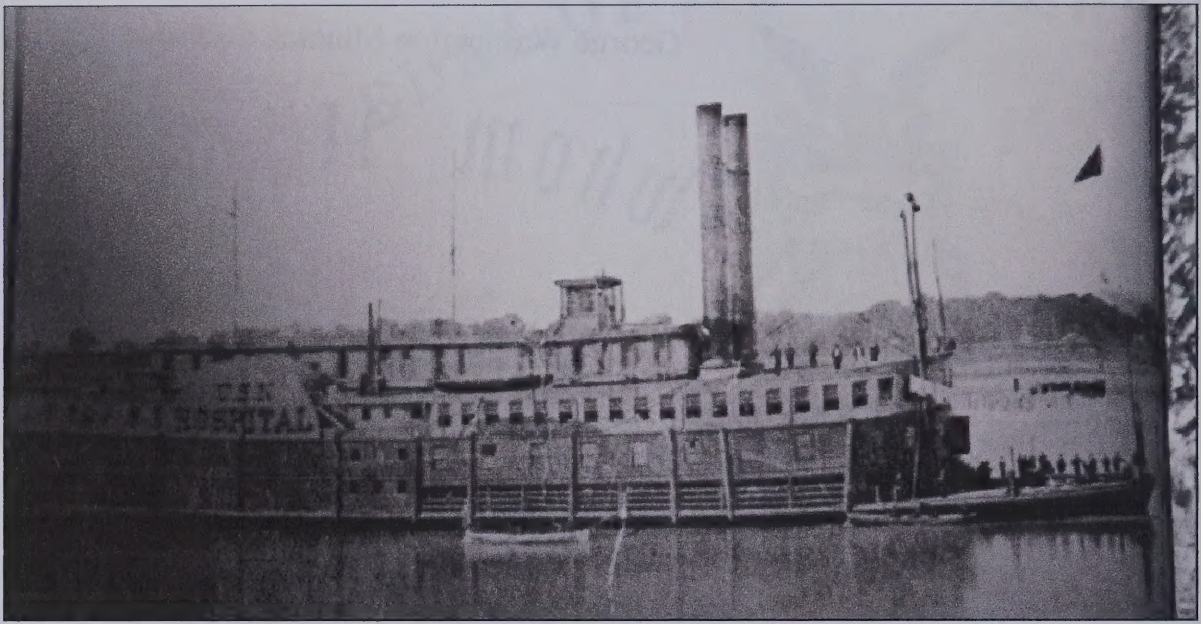
RED ROVER HOSPITAL SHIP THAT CASPER WEISS WAS ON

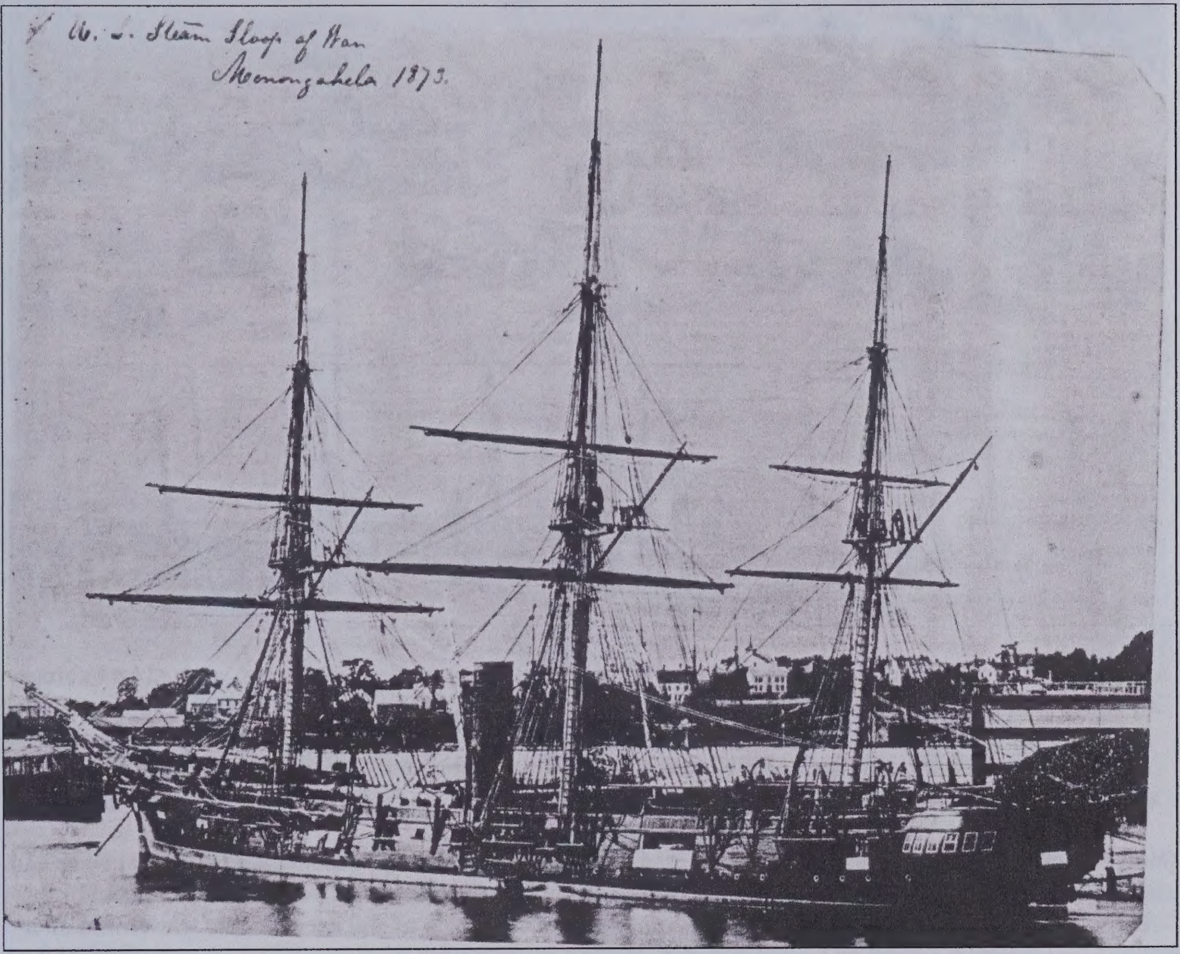


Features:
Elevators between decks, curtains on the windows to keep smokestack cinders out, bathrooms, and a laundry.

Specifications:
Acquisition – captured and purchased from Illinois prize court September 30, 1862, for $10,000 by the Navy Department, and was commissioned December 26, 1862, at Cairo, Illinois.
Description – wooden side-wheeler, 786 tons, 8 foot draft, two engines – diameter of cylinder 28 inches with an eight foot stroke, 5 boilers.
Had a battery of 1 32 pounder cannon.

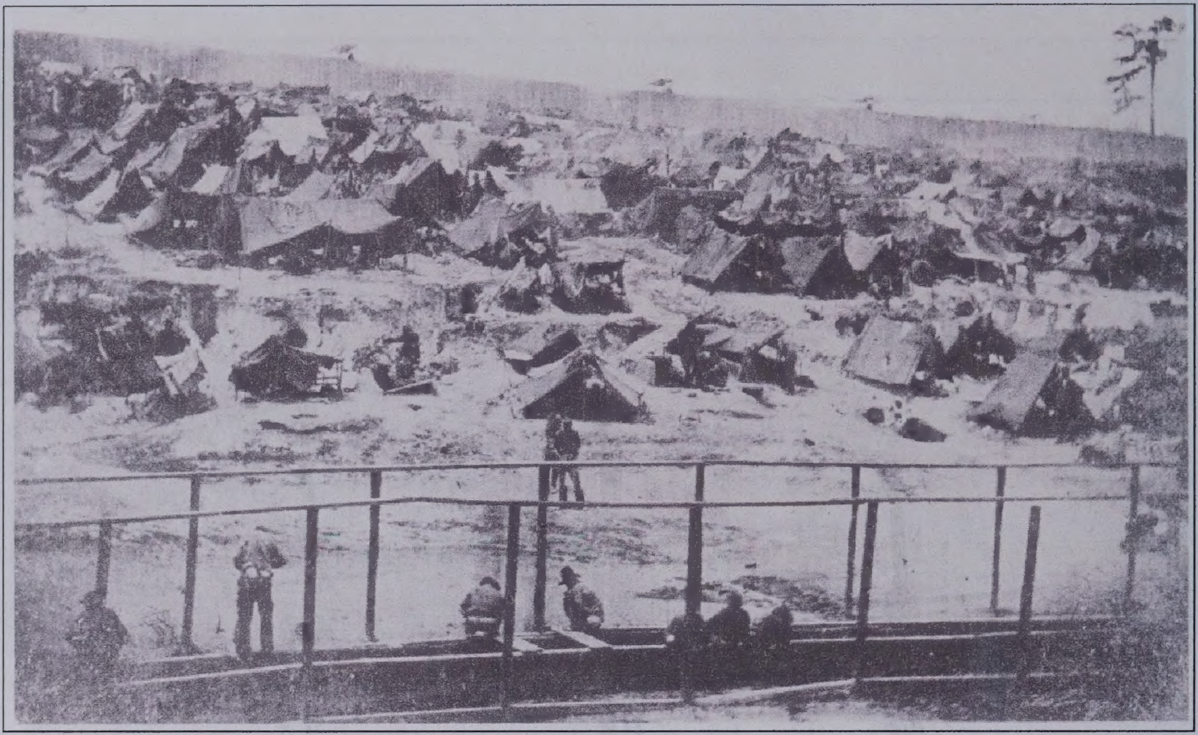
Disposition – sold at public auction for $4,500 November 29, 1865, at Mound City, Illinois.

MONONGAHELA SHIP THAT RODERICK PRENTISS SERVED ON:



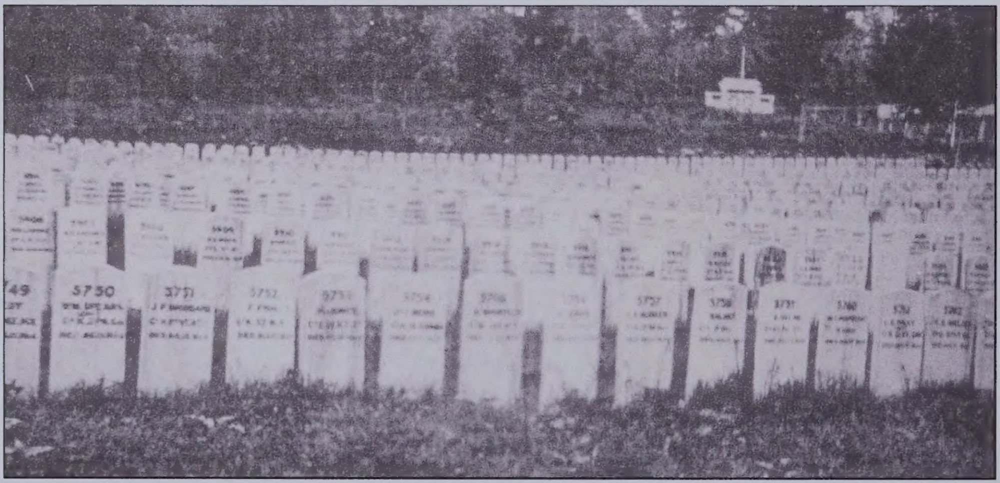
U. S. Steam Sloop of War
Monongahela 1873.

ANDERSONVILLE PRISON AT AMERICUS, GEORGIA:



August, 1864 – looking south from the sinks. The first batch of prisoners, 500 strong, arrived on February 24, 1864. The prison was designed for 10,000 prisoners but by April 1 there were 12,000 held there. The prisoners had to build their own makeshift shelters, as shown. There were 1,200 guards, four pieces of artillery, and a cavalry company, so escape was impossible. Their sinks (toilets), bathing facilities, and source of drinking water were all the same – the stream shown in the foreground. Deaths reached over a hundred a day due to diseases.

(Note) – The conditions of this prison were not unique to just this one; the Union's prisons were just as bad. – the Union prison at Elmyra, New York was the compliment of Andersonville. The commander of Andersonville (Captain Henry Wirz) was the only person convicted of and executed for war crimes after the war, and he was hanged



The National Cemetery at Andersonville:
12,914 burials – all Andersonville deaths.

THE SULTANA

This photograph of the Sultana and her doomed passengers was taken on April 26, 1865, at Helena, Arkansas. (Library of Congress)

*The Sultana was launched January 3, 1863. It cost $60,000 to build. It was a wooden hull steamer which was 260 feet long, had a beam of 42 feet, and its' hold was seven feet deep. It had a capacity of 1,000 tons but trimmed only 34 inches of water, making her ideal for the Mississippi and Ohio Rivers. It was powered by four high pressure boilers each 18 feet long and 46 inches in diameter. The boilers powered two engines which drove the side wheels. It had a legal capacity of 376. It was inspected April 12, 1865, and was determined to be fit for service. On April 24 repairs to one of the boilers (a patch over a bulge) was being performed.

On April 25 it was loaded with 2,400 soldiers (probably overloaded because there was 50 cents per head being paid for paroled prisoner transportation), most of them Union troops from Tennessee, Virginia, Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio, and Michigan. They had been released from Andersonville and Cahaba prisons, and were on their way home. There were 100 citizen passengers and a crew of 80. The cargo consisted of: 1,000 bushels of coal, 70 to 100 mules and horses, 100 hogs, and one alligator in a crate.

On April 27, 1865, at 2 A. M., just south of Island No.41, seven miles out of Memphis, three boilers exploded at the same time (probably due to an insufficient water supply in the boilers), instantly destroying the entire center section of the boat, and setting the rest of the Sultana on fire.

765 troops and 18 civilians and crew members survived.

The Sultana disaster took a back seat to the other events of the time, which were: The end of the war, the assassination of President Lincoln, and the capture of John Wilkes Booth.

It was and still is, the world's largest marine tragedy.

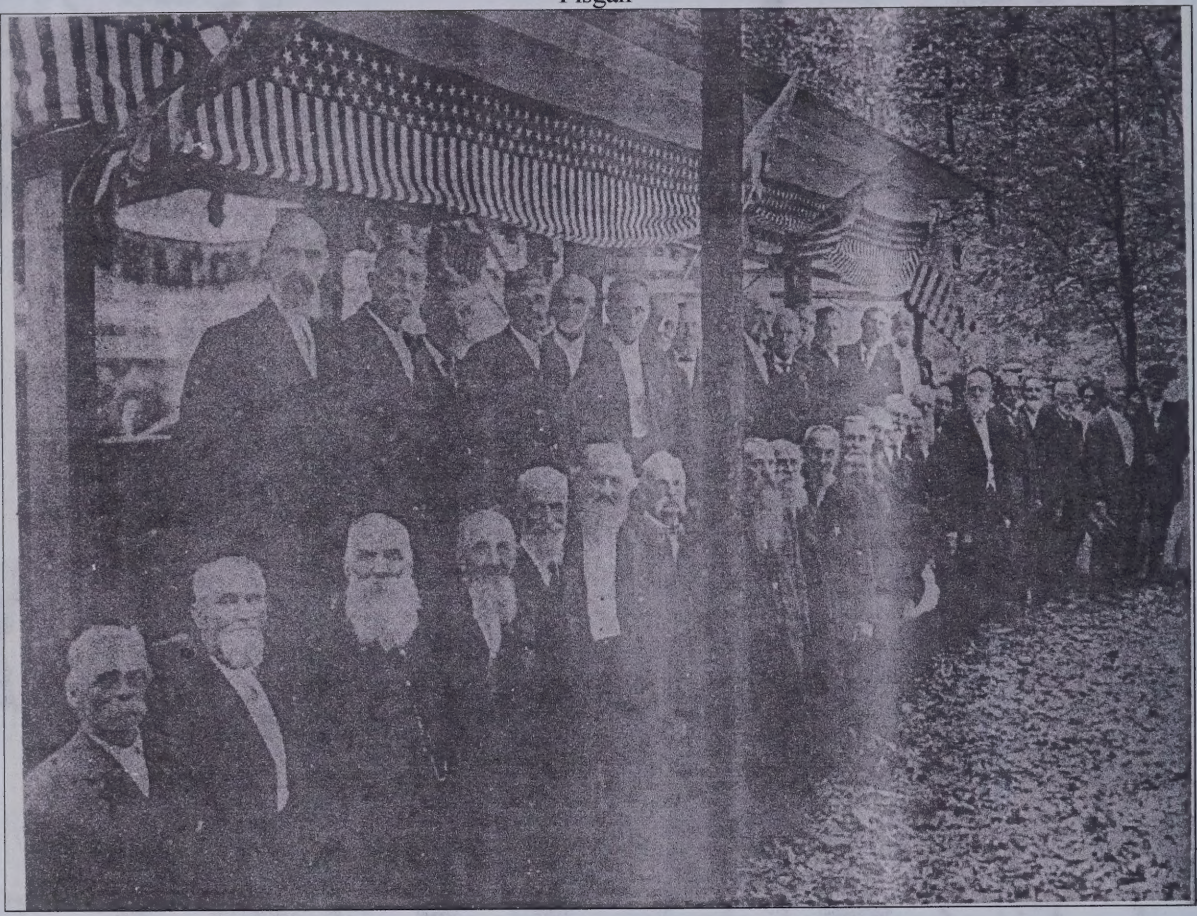
Veterans at a picnic at Mt. Pisgah



THE MT. PISGAH PICNIC

By Marguerite Forst

I have been asked to tell something about the picnics that were held for some thirty years at Lakeside Park at Mt. Pisgah. I hardly know where to begin and once I get started there are so many stories connected with these picnics that I shall hardly know when to stop. So get yourselves comfortably located in your chair.

As you all know the Civil War came to a close in 1865. Our boys came home tired and worn out with tramping for miles over high land or marsh land, wading streams, foraging for food, cooking over camp fires, trying to aid the sick or wounded and all the other horrors of war.

For a few years, they were content to rest and try to forget the nightmares of the past. Gradually, they began to think of their comrades and a longing crept into their hearts to meet with their old buddies and talk over old experiences. They tell us that reunions were held from time to time in various places. They met at South Milford, Salem, Wolcottville and at LaGrange. No records were kept of these meetings.

The history book tells us that the Soldiers and Sailors Reunion Association was organized August 11, 1894. However, the badges that we have show that they held picnics at Lakeside Park as early as 1892.

'Tis said the boys inquired around for a suitable place to hold an annual picnic. From all the places offered, they selected the grove a half mile east of the Mt. Pisgah store as the most desirable location.

The land belonged to Andrew Forst. He and his family helped the boys clear out the underbrush, rake leaves, and get the place ready to accommodate a crowd.

At a meeting, a suggestion was made that since this grove was to be a permanent meeting place, it should have a name. Several names were presented but because of the proximity to Little Turkey Lake, they decided the name should be "Lakeside Park".

The men who originally organized the association were: John M. Caton, Robert Pierce, M. B. Butler, John Grosbeck, Elijah Forbes and Daniel Rasler. Ralph Ashley is mentioned later. With the exception of Mr. Butler, I knew these men well. Mr. Caton came to the Mt. Pisgah area in 1882 and built a lovely brick home south of the store about a half mile. He had a blacksmith shop and many a time we children on our way home from school, stopped to watch the sparks fly from the forge. Mr. Pierce was a neighbor also. He was the father of Jessie Pierce who taught at the Mt. Pisgah school for several years. Mr. Grosbeck was the whitest white man I ever saw. I did not meet him until his hair and beard were snow white. He was a chaplain and always lived the part well. I never met Mr. Butler but I read his book that tells of the life of a soldier during the Civil War. Mr. Rasler was my grandfather who spoiled us all by doing so many nice things for us. Mr. Ashley was also connected with the Mt. Pisgah store. He was its first secretary. Mr. Forbes was also a close neighbor and at one of the reunions, they staged a sham battle. The boys in blue were on one side of a hill and the boys in gray on the other side. They had procured an old cannon and when Mr. Forbes attempted to light it, it back-fired and shattered one hand. He had lived thru Gettysburg – gone with Sherman to the sea – came home without a scratch only to lose a hand in a sham battle.

During the middle of July each summer the boys met to plan for the picnic. These meetings were well attended and much interest was shown. The work was divided so that no one had much to do.

When the big day arrived, there were baby racks, cane racks, and places to buy ice-cream, candy, pop corn, and all the indigestible things that go along with a picnic.

Fred Brady was always on hand to make taffy. He had a large hook fastened up above his head over which he looped the taffy – time and time again until it was white as snow and the best taffy candy you ever tasted. In those days, a nickel bought a big chunk.

The merry-go-round was set up the day before the picnic. One side of the round platform that held the wooden ponies and sleds could be lowered so that a real horse could be taken across the platform and hitch to something that pulled the merry-go-round around. They would have to change horses several times during the day.

A speaker's stand was built toward the east side of the grove. The east, north and south sides were open but the back side was closed about half way up. Under the eaves, on the east side facing the benches where the audience sat, were the figures 1860-1865. On the north side, was the word "welcome". This building was painted in red, white and blue stripes. Benches were placed on the platform where to old soldiers sat. An organ was borrowed from the Lake Bethel Church for the day.

A short way to the south from the speaker's stand, a six-sided building was built especially for the band. No picnic was complete without a good band. Another building was built that had a counter of table built out around the front of it. All kinds of knick-knacks, pop, candy, balloons and ice cream were sold there.

A driven well furnished water for the thirsty. Two tin cups dangled on a wire from the pump's spout. We all drank out of the same cups and lived to tell the tale.

Oh yes - - two little buildings stood over in the southeast corner of the grove. By evening, there were well worn paths leading to each one.

Picnic day was a grand event, not only for the local neighborhood but for the whole country. Aside from the annual Corn School, it was considered the biggest event in the county.

By seven o'clock in the morning, the roads from the east and from the west were filled with wagons and buggies wending their way toward the picnic ground. There was ample room in the grove across the road from the picnic area for the wagons, buggies and horses.

The program usually began at 10 o'clock. During the early years, while the boys were still quite physically "fit", they assembled at the main entrance to the grove where they lined up two by two and with the band leading, they marched to the speaker's stand to take their seats.

Picnic tales as told by Arthur Scott and published in the LaGrange Standard:

The Ontario band furnished music for the picnic several times. So did the Mongo band, and others. He thinks the last band to play was the Howe town band which contained some of the original Ontario players. (Music was also furnished by a Brighton band, Flint and a band from Stroh).

A few persons in the old band were: Carl Willard, Alfred Hart, Ed Mosier and Walt DeMond, who were sons of veterans. Ross Parish was a grandson. Bud Mann and the Scott boys were nephews of old soldiers.

About 1896 or 7, Clark Brook, a school teacher and professional cornetist, came to the Lewis home to spend the summer. He had led a show band in earlier years and had possession of some good band music. He taught the boys that summer. The Mt. Pisgah picnic was the last engagement before school started. The boys had built a band wagon. They took a heavy wagon, got a set of bolster springs, put a tight bottomed hay rack on the springs, then arranged two rows of seats from end to end which were covered with old church cushions. They used four horses to draw the wagon.

The Smeltzly girls, the Scott girls, Mable Davidson and Stella Hart helped at decorations for socials, etc. so turned out and made red, white and blue plumes to put on the horses' heads. They trimmed the wagon as you would a float for corn school.

They gave royal greetings to people as they passed the houses along the way – especially and pretty girl. They joshed those who passed by them in buggies and cussed some as smart alecks who passed by in a flurry leaving a cloud of dust.

On picnic day, it rained. They gathered up all the oil cloths, rain coats, and umbrellas they could muster and set out. They stopped at Garlets store in Mongo, not knowing whether to go on or not. Their instruments had been placed in a surrey so they would not get wet. Finally all climbed into the wagon again and set out. The two rows of riders sat back to back.

More rain came, water from your umbrella running down your neighbor's back.

The rain had subsided somewhat by the time they reached the grounds. Capt. Caton was there to greet them along with several other old soldiers.

The shelter house faced east. This was the speaker's stand and had benches for the old boys to sit on. The band stood just south of the speaker's stand. (It was six-sided and had a row of seats running clear around on the inside for the players to sit on).

The band played a couple numbers to assemble the crowd and also during the program.

John Hawk was leader of the Mongo band. Some Brighton boys were in that band, also. Walter Crandall played clarinet; Harry Heign and Welden Secrist, cornets; Jacob Arnold, tuba; Andrew Kraushaar, baritone. Arthur Scott, Walt DeMond, Harvey Keys and others were in this band.

(Probably the band that played at the last picnic in 1922 was one from Howe. Howe had celebrated a homecoming and had gotten together a band with players from Howe, Pretty Prairie and Ontario under the leadership of Sam Gilbert). The band played a medley of Stephen Foster melodies including "Dixie". The selection was well played but was not appreciated by the ex-soldiers. Mr. Frank Dunten, the main speaker of the day, admonished the band boys – "Never play Dixie to a group of ex-soldiers from the North". The band marched on to their own seats.

The speaker's stand and the band stand were gaily decorated with bunting and flags. One large flag, with the golden eagle on top, stood out from all the rest.

In the minutes of a meeting in 1899, I find that a choir from Salem sang several numbers. Prayer was offered by Comrade John Groosbeck. Elder Bumpus gave the welcome address and a response was given by Rev. Stillewll of LaGrange. The meeting was then dismissed for dinner.

Some families placed the seats together to form a table and ate in front of the speaker's stand. Some spread their dinners on the ground and ate from the ground. Others bought dinners that were served by a church group.

At one o'clock, the grown ups assembled again for the afternoon program. There were recitations, songs, short speeches and often a drill put on by the neighborhood children. The children were rewarded by a free ride on the merry-go-round or a dish of ice-cream.

In the afternoon, an address was the main feature of the program. Among the notables who gave addresses upon various dates were: Hon. John W. Hanan; Judge Powers of Angola; Hon. S. W. Gilbert; Hon. O. L. Ballou; Hon. C. C. Gillames; Hon. James Watson; Vermont Finley and many others.

At one of the picnics, a colored man spoke who had been a slave. I quote from his speech "You folks who have always been free cannot understand what it means to be a slave – knowing that any day your master had the right to sell you away from your family or to sell a son or your wife like cattle or pigs. Neither can you fathom the joy we experienced when we were told that we were really free".

At the close of the day, when most of the folks had gone home, the boys ate supper from their baskets, then built a huge bonfire around which they sat to sing old camp-fire songs and swap stories of their army days.

Among the records of this association, I found the following resolution which had been written by Comrade Elijah Forbes who braved the battles at Gettysburg and marched with Sherman to the sea.

Lakeside Park, Indiana
August 16, 1913

The 21st meeting of the ex-soldiers picnic association.

Inasmuch as the management of this association be getting well on in years and that these annual meetings will soon cease, we beg to offer at this meeting the following resolution:

Be it declared that in the event of these annual meetings ceasing to be kept up, that the records of said Mount Pisgah Ex-soldiers Picnic Association consisting of Secretary's book, Treasurer's book, Flags, Bunting and all decorating material and all finance of said association shall become the property of the J. H. Dancer Grand Army Post No. 104 at LaGrange, Indiana. We further ask that the resolution be read and action taken at this meeting by a vote of yeas and nays, and that the result of such vote be put upon the records of this meeting.

(Signed) E. H. Forbes

The resolution was adopted. However, by the time the picnics folded up, there was no Grand Army organization either. The American Legion at LaGrange was contacted and they agreed to accept the old flag that had flown at every reunion of the ex-soldiers. My mother and father, Mr. And Mrs. Belden Sadler, my uncle Gil;bert Rasler and a neighbor, Elmer Forbes, attended a meeting of the American Legion and presented the flag to them, and I quote from the presentation speech made by my mother "We, the children of the boys in blue who fought so valiently in the Civil War to insure freedom for all, proudly present this flag to the boys in khaki who fought just as valiently during the Great World War for Peace".

Among the minutes of these meetings I found these few lines with which I will close my story:

Your arms are grounded and your ranks are broken
The brassen bugle sound the charge no more
We're waiting orders till the word is spoken
To join our comrades on the other shore.

Dear Wife,

I embrace the present of writing you and let you know that I am well and hope you and yours are the same. I left Pulaska after I wrote we marched 8 days and part of the nights the enemy fighting us all the way on the last of November. We had a fight with them they expected to take us all together but they were horribly mistaken The fight was on our left mostly the rebels fought like demons they charged the breast works 11 times. So intent was they on whipping us that they pulled the guns out of our boys hands and shot them with their oun guns. They got over the works our boys drove them out and took about 1600 prisoners and 14 battle flags.

We are at present resting after a 48 hour march, Where I stood in the line of the fight they only made one dash, we drove them back with a few shots. The old soldiers say it was the hardest fighting they ever knew for the time it lasted. The officers say the rebels in killed, wounded and missing not less than 6,000 all in about 3 hours work. General Clayborn and 2 others of their best men were killed.

Joseph Pland was shot through the head and killed. Matt Newman has his pocket book and watch. Al Eminger went to Nashville just before the fight on the cars. Tell J. Sigly that I seen Levi Segly and had quite a talk.

I have not seen Mike yet but shall find him soon. Ed is all right and out on guard. Jim Newman well, James, Ed, Myself and Nelson Baugher mess together.

Eldon you wanted to know what rebels do, I will tell you they come on the full run at us But we made them (give) up soon.

Tell me if you have sold my wagon and wheat and the price you got. Tell ----- ----- ----- -----.

THE FOLLOWING IS A SET OF LETTERS FROM SAMUEL SHEPARDSON TO VARIOUS FAMILY MEMBERS, AND ALSO SOME CORRESPONDENCE FROM ELIJAH SHEPARDSON:
(Grammar, punctuation, spelling, have been left as they originally appeared)

Camp Allen Sept 8 61

Brother Frank,

It is not so disagreeable here in wet weather as it was at Ft Wayne. There is no clay here, there is no chance to get home from here, and I don't know when I can come. Its not likely I will be home very soon. If any letters come to the office for me, you open them, and if they are of any account you can send them to me. If they are not, you need not send them. I believe I have wrote all the news this time I can think of. Give my respects to my friends, and my love to mother.

Camp Allen Sept 8 61

Brother Frank,

We are all well and present & enjoying all the blessings of camp life. We have had no very hard battles since we left Lima. We know not how long we shal have it okay here nor how soon we shal have to be called away. We probably shal have to go to St. Louis before we can get our uniforms, and then to St. Louis to drill. It is not likely we shal stay here more than two weeks at furtherest, and it is probable we may move next week. I have not been out of camp since I have been here, and I think I can get a furlough for a few days before our leave. If I - - - - - and we should stay here any length of time I will write to you and if it is so you can leave home I would like to have you come & see me and bring the folks with you all tho it would poor engagment - for you here and, I guess, rather poor accommodation. It is no great sights - to see them drill as we have no arms yet. There are about eight hundred men in camp, and I think one company quartered up in town. No more at present. Sam Shepardson

Brother Frank,

We are well at present, except Harvey and Charles. Harvey has been unwell for several days, but is getting better. I think he will be as well as ever in a few days. Charles has had the ague for two or three days, but I think he will soon be rid of it.

I have been unwell for a few days but I feel about as well as ever again. With the exception of John Gleason being unwell a few days, the rest of the boys from our place have enjoyed very good health. Jerome likes it very well here. I think he likes it better than driving back. There is very little sickness here in camp considering the numbers here. there are about 1250 men here we have not been mustered in yet and there is no knowing when we will be. the report is the mustering officer will be here tomorrow morning, but it has been so for the last two weeks, "tomorrow never comes". There is no telling when we will leave here, but I think we will stay here two or three weeks any way. I don't know as I will get a chance to come home again. I cant tell until after we are mustered in, tho I think I can get a furlough. if you should come down here I wish you would fetch my books and my woolen pants. I presume we shall not get our uniforms until after we leave here. If you do come, come when there is a prospect of fair weather, or you may get homesick. Write as soon as convenient and let me know how you are all getting along. Write of all the folks there, for we don't get any letters from home, tho I believe John Gilson has received letters from there. Write what has become of Elsie. Harvey has not heard from her. I hope this letter will find you all enjoying good health. I cant think of any thing interesting so I will quit.

Yours respectly

Sister Susan,

We are yet, lying here in camp, not knowing when we will leave, nor where we will go when we do leave here. Our regiment is not quite full yet. I think it lacks 24 or 25 men yet, they will probably be taken out of some of the companies at Ft. Wayne. I think it lacked 50 men when we came here and they brought 27 from Ft Wayne two or three days ago. As soon as the regiment is full, and equipped, we will leave here, and not until then. I think we will hardly get away from here this week. We will probably go to Kentucky from here, or, at least that seems to be the talk among the head men here. There has not but 4 companies received their guns yet, tho I have heard the rest of the guns were on the way here. "these that we have got kill at both ends, so if we have to use them any, you need not look for any of us home again." We have sent our clothes home. I think they started yesterday. They were sent to R. Dykes. You may think I sent home more than I aught to, but I expect to have to throw some I have kept, if they don't steal them so I cant. I have not been very well, since I have been here, but I feel better today. I think I will soon be as well as usual. The rest of the boys are well at present, and are all enjoying themselves. It has rained nearly ever since we came here until last evening it faired off and the day is bright as ever.

We landed at Louisville and marched up 3rd Street to main. We turned to the right and marched down main st. to 6th down 6th and to the right, down to the depot. I thought Washington St. in Indianapolis was pretty nice, but I never was in a city before. The buildings on main st. Louisville are all as high as 3 stories & many of them 4. we were, throughout the city, greeted by the waving of handkerchiefs, and the stars and stripes, from the windows of nearly every building, and the fanilliar Horah for the union, was heard above the thunder of the busy metropolis. I noticed one wench, in particular standing on the stone steps of mossas fence horah for the union, Im for the union head over heals. We left Louisville at 2 Oclock P. M. and arrived at Camp Nevin in the evening.

Camp Nevin is about 53 miles from Louisville. We went 51 miles by R.R. that was as far as we could go on account of the bridges being burned, about 5 weeks ago, the rebels ran nearly all the Engines & cars on the Louisville & Nashville R.R. southward and burned the bridges after them. The big bridge on the Rolling Fork is rebuilt again. The trains crossed for the first time the day we came down, that I think is about 8 miles north of here. The bridge, I should think, is about 50 feet high. There is about 8 miles of the road above Elizabeth Town that is rather rough. The country is rather rough. I should have said, it is among hills above 250 or 300 feet high. There is a north cut around there for the R.R. track at the south end - - through a tunnel about ¾ of a mile long. We then came in some nice country. The road through

Otis Shepardson,

I send you this package by Express, and would like to have you send it to J. F. Freligh, with the exception of the one directed to Washington Thurston. That I would like to have you hand to him. It is from John McNeal. I had to send it to you, as I knew you were near the Express Office, and would be likely to get as soon as it got through. If there are any extra, or any charges still on it you can have Frank make it right with you. The Envelope contain money, sent home by our boys for the benefit of those that stand in need of it more than we do here, and if you will send it to Frank with the exception of the one spoken of, he has instructions as to distributing the others in the one addressed to him. In doing so, I will be much obliged to you, until you are better paid

Dear Sister,

We received those articles, yesterday, which you mentioned in your letter of Dec 27th, and have given those not sent to any one in particular, to those most in kneed of them, although our company was very well provided for before. Yet those articles will not come amiss, and I trust they were received with many thanks.

I am well at present, and hopeing this will find you all enjoying good health, I remain

You spoke about sending some things for the hospital, but it is of no use to send any thing here. If they could be sent to the general hospital at Louisville, they perhaps might be beneficial, but otherwise you had better keep them at home.

Dear Sister

I received your letter of -, this evening, and as usual, was very glad to hear that you were all well at home. Daniel Bidwell, of South Milford, brought me it. He has been home on a furlough for some time, & returned to night.

Have been subsisting on half rations, nearly ever since the Battle of Pittsburg Landing. But worse than all, they are loosing confidence in their commander, and they are almost at moding (?) now. Many regiments would leave if they could only get out on picket, but they keep all suspicious regiments within their lines, as much as possible.

The weather, at present, is uncommonly pleasant, the roads are becoming quite good, again. It has not rained for one week, but we are, as you might say, in an almost barren wilderness of quicksand and mud, the poorest piece of country that I have seen since I left home, it may do to fight and die on.

I wrote to Otis a few days ago but I closed it in rather short notice, oweing to a slight skirmish between the pickets, but the enemy were repressed, with only a slight loss on our side. The heavy Canonading of that day, was between the enemy, and General Pope. Pope lost 400 cavalry, and took 2,000 prisoners and 17 pieces of Artillery. He outgeneraled them so handsome that it is mostly relating, after experiencing the artillery, which was done in an open field, he ordered his men to retreat and leave the Battery, the enemy seeing his men falling back, pressed him close, but no doubt, were not a little surprised, when they saw, but too late, that he had surrounded the field, and cut off their retreat. We are in shouting distance of the enemy now and there is no knowing when the Ball will commence. The roar of canon has become a daily, yes of hourly occurrence. They had a small 4th of July on our left this morning. Deserters are coming to our lines every day in large numbers. Today, one whole Brigade gave themselves up, they came out on picket and were afraid we would attack them. They came up in front of our pickets, and stacked their arms, and surrendered themselves as prisoners. So I am told, from good authority, deserters all represent their conditions there as deplorable indeed, they

Yesterdays proceedings will probably reach you by tonights papers, but you will not be more surprised at it than we were.

Just as everything was ready to open on them, they got tired of waiting us. Our Brigade helped in the last skirmishing, rather bushwhacking. Our Regiment stood picket the last knight, within six rods of the enemy's, and Stephen Sampman, George Hanes, Charles Wheeler & John McNeal worked about an hour and a half, to drive three Rebels from behind a tree, only twelve steps from them. They succeeded and surrounded two of them, one of them they got the next morning, he was shot in the thigh. The Bone was broken into small pieces from his knee to his body. The doctors amputated it, but recovery is doubtful.

Knight before last, we could hear almost deafening cheers from them, after they had their tattoo, about twelve Oclock. They came down close to the line, and, sounded a bugle call whitch I took for a – for their reserve to leave, and just at break of day, they threw up three rockets, and fired two guns whitch I think was the signal for their pickets to retreat, and in a few minutes after began to hear terrible explosions as if their whole line of Canon were showering their iron hail upon us. But it proved to be the blowing up of the town, and their ammunition that they could not remove.

I don't believe they ever had 80,000 men there. Neither do I believe they ever had any heavy guns in position. Neither do I believe they ever intended to make a very formidable stand there. Their very formidable Breast Works were no stronger than our rifle pits were. I was inside their works, but I was not down to the town. Even Bowling Green was a stronger place than Corinth.

But I must bring this to a close. None of our Regiment were hurt in the skirmishing. This leaves me well as usual, and I hope it will find you all well at home. - - came here last Sunday.

If you get this in time, I would like to have you get Myers to make me a pair of boots like the last ones he made for me, only a little broader than they were, and send them by C. W. Buck. If you cant send them by him you need not get them. Write as often as you can conveniently.

Dear Sister.

As we are now out of reach of all communications except the telegraph I don't look for any word from home. But I think it would be my duty to write to you as often as circumstances will admit of which I will endeavor to do.

We are now in pursuit of the Rebels, who are making for Cumberland Gap. Rouseau's Division had a hard battle with them near Perrysville, killing about 2,000 of them. They did not ask permission to bury them, and we haven't time to bury them, so they were left to the mercy of the buzzards. I know it is rather horrible to think of, but we must get through the world the best way we can.

We are fighting every day, or, at least, some one Division is engaged with them every day, and it is not uncommon to hear the canon talking occasionally through the knight.

You need not be alarmed if you don't hear from me for six months, for I caculate to live as long as I can see anyone else live. I have seen some of the boys in the 88th among them, Frank Andrews, Jial Barnes, Peter Notestine, and several others, from near home. They were all well, they were in the battle but none of them were hurt.

Our Regiment is in the 6th Briggade, Genl Kirk commanding Second Division, Genl Sill comd. You may hear from the division or Briggade, by the papers, if we should have the good luck to get into a fight.

I send some money to Frank while I was at Frankfort. I expresses it to Dad, also some to Griffeth Hale, with it, sent by William Hall. I heard that the express got through to Louisville safely, so I think it will get home from there without any trouble.

I have a chance to send this by private conveyance to Ft. Wayne so I must close. Hoping this will find you all well. I remain.

Respectfully Yours

Dear Sister,

As it has been some time since I have written to you. I cant think of any better way of spending the evening than to pass the time away in giving you a small piece of my mind, in the shape of dull news, nonsence, and no-sence.

I wrote a letter to mother, dated Nov 2nd, which I presume you have received ere this, we was then at Bowling Green, Ky.

We arrived at this place one week ago today, and, thank somebody, we have been here nearly ever since. This is the most rest we have had at any one time, since we left Battle Creek, August, the 20th.... It is now eight months since we left this place last Spring when we took up our march for Corinth, under Genl Buell. Now, the result of this eight months labor is quite an item when looked upon in the right light. But the question is, will the War Department look upon it in the right light. If they do, Buells next line of march will be between the heavens and earth, for he has now cost our Government eight months of the most precious time we have had, about one hundred millions of dollars, and about fifty thousand lives. Besides costing Tennessee and Kentucky about fifty million dollars more, and I think the better way would be to dispose of him in some manner, before he makes the nation any more cost. But I presume there are others who know better than I.

General Buell's countenance always wore a sort of a - - - . He has an indiligent and pearcing eye, his heart has turned his eyes in search of the wil, instead of the good, as is the case with too many of our leading men of the day.

Another great blow to the preservation of the Union is the clamor raised by the abolition politicians of the north. They have ruined McClellan, they have ruined the South, they have ruined the Government, they have ruined themselves, and they are trying to ruine what yet remains of the North.

In regard to McClellan, it has come around, just as I expected it would. Twice he had token command of the Army of the Potomac, and had accomplished with them, all that that army was capable of doing, but because he could not take Richmond with sixtyeight thousand men, the damned abolition politicians of the north must have him removed. The result of that removal was, our Army was driven back across the Potomac, and our Capitol was in great danger. Again, he was urged to take command and he once more took command of the Army of the Potomac. The result was the Rebels were driven back into Virginia, but he necessarily had to move slow, in order to organize the Army again, which had become disorganized by reverses. He had just got the Army organized and ready for service, when the afforsaid politicians, thinking the danger past, must have him removed again, and now, I hope if that Army is again driven back, (but I hope it never will be driven back) I hope to God the Rebels will not stop south of Boston, Mass... Not because I think there are not men as capable of knowing that Army as McClellan is, but I believe there is no better ones than he is, although there may be his equals.

At present times are very dull and produce and merchandise very highly tainted with money. You can form an idea of what it costs a citizen to live here in Nashville. Sugar 50cts pr pound, coffee $1 per lb.

Tea $3.00 pr. Lb. Sweet potatoes $4.00 pr bushel,no other kind raised here, and other vegetables, and merchandise, in the same ratio.

I received that tin cushion, that you sent me, containing little Ellas likeness, which was a very nice present, and very thankfuly. Received, and I will try and take good care of it. I would like to have all of your likenessis if you could get them, and send them in some way so they would not take up much room, for they are very unhandy to carry here. I believe I have wrote enough for this time. I wish you would let me know whether you ever received that money, that was at Indianapolis that Capt. Dawson was to send home for me. Also forty dollars that I sent home from Frankfort, Ky.

Give my best respects to all of my friends. Tell the children that Uncle Sam wants them to be good girls and go to school this winter. I am well at present and hopeing this may find you all enjoying good health. I remain.

Nashville, Tennessee
Dec 4th, 1862
Dear Sister,

I received your letter dated Nov 24th, last evening, and was very glad to hear from you again, and to hear that you were all well at home. And, also, to learn your feelings, in regard to the great international difficulties, which have so long threatened the destruction of our, seemingly, once prosperous and happy Union.

Now, in answering it, you must allow me to take my own time, for it is rather a more of a difficult task to sit down and write a letter here, amidst the busy clatter of axes, the falling of trees, the hum of hundreds of voices, the rattleing of wagons, the neighing of horses, and the braying of mules: than it is at home.

Something in regard to money, that I suppose was sent home, that I am afraid never got through, although I may be missenformed… You wrote of recieveing two packages of money, one of $25, and the other $40. That is all well enough, as far as it goes… If I understood you right, the $25, you mentioned, I sent you last fall, while we were in Camp Nevin, the $40 I sent from Frankfort, Ky.

Now, what I had reference to, most, was, last spring, at the Battle of Shiloh, Capt. Dawson was wounded on the 7th. On the morning of the 8th, we were ordered out again, and most of the boys handed their money to the Capt., and I, not knowing what might befall us, gave him my pocketbook also, for safe keeping. We went onto the battlefield, and Capt. Dawson went home, and while he was at home, he placed this money in the Bank at Indianapolis; $500 in all which belonged, mostly to the members of this Co… When Capt. Dawson went home recruiting, he promised to send this money, for the boys, to their respective homes; but as yet, I have not heard from my portion, ($23 ½), neither have some of the others. I wrote a letter, and directed it, and sent it by him, to express the money in, providing he wanted to express it; if not, he said he would hand you the money, himself, and, as you said nothing in regard to this money, I think it never got through… Now, that $23 ½, is but a very small amount, at most, but it is worth just as much to you, or me, as it is to any one else, and if I can save any money here, above what I actually need, I want you to have it at home, for I know very well that you can find good use, for all I have to spare, the Government owes us three months wages now, if I had that, I could send some money home, but it is not likely that we will get any pay, until some time in January. Then we will get four months pay, but by that time, we may be where we can not send it home, but I will do the best that I can…

There is also some mistery connected with those boots, and some very mysterious moves made by the one they were sent by. I don't know how mutch they are making by it, but I calculate to find out if its among the possibles, I don't know how true the report is, in regard to selling these recruits, but I am very confident there is some speculation going on.

The cars have been running through for several days, but Capt. Dawson, nor Charlie Buck, have not yet made their appearance… In regard to that letter you spoke of sending by C. N. Buck, I have not received one from you since the 8th of August, until I recieved yours last evening. The one you sent by him has not yet got through.

In regard to our politics, I don't think we differ so very mutch. After all, the only difference is, you put a different meaning to what I wrote, from what I did, but I haven't time to write any more about that, this time…

Now in regard to that clothing you spoke of… The truth is, it is of no use whatever, to send any thing of that kind here, for we draw all the clothing we need, from the Government, and all that we can possibly take care of, but you have my thanks for your willingness to send them, but we don't need them.

I haven't time to write any more this time. It is of no use to ask Frank, to write, for I know how he always did hate to write a letter, but as long as you write for him it will do.

I send my best respect to Mother, Frank, Eva, Ida, Ella, all, and except a share yourself.

I am well, and hopeing this will find you all enjoying the same blessing. I remain.

Very Respectfully and Truly,
Your Affectionate Brother,

Friend Susan

Your letter came to hand on the 8th stating to find out where Samuel is Sam was with us on the 30th of Jan the evening we laid on pickit in front of the enemy before the battle, He was not very well that night the next morning the Captain sent him back to the rear just before the firing commenced we supposed he was taken prisoner that day with some of the rest of our boys on the 31st we had not heard nothing of him til the 7th of Feb by the way of a letter that Capt got from one of our boys that the rebs had taken prisoner with Sam and he said that the rebs had left Sam at Nashville Tennessee sick in the hospital with one of our boys the distance of 75 or a 100 miles from us the rest of the boys was taken to richmond virginia and they are handed over to our men the reason why Sam does not write is because he is ion the hands of the rebs and they wont let him write whether he is thare now or not I do not know if he is thar and gets well he will be sent on to the rest but if he is thair - - can not tell and if he is thair sick and gets well he will come out all rite I have mist Sam a great deal since he has been gon and have enquired for him most every day and could hear nothing from him til yesterday the reason why the rebels payroled some of the prisoners is because they was afraid that our men would retake them again and then that they could keep boots, they took away with them. This is all I can tel you about Sam. Charley Buck was not wounded. We have the reports that Indiana is a goin to cesede the men in the north had ought to throw their hearts together and try to help the poor soldiers home and not uphold the south with their meanness but no it is the war tax that they half to pay now do not our foot soldiers half to pay for this war more when the men that is to home we half to run our risk of our lives and if we live to get home we have to pay with the rest now let us all put our minds together and put this rebellion down and let us return back to our homes once more I will half to bring my letter to a close

The Rebels tried to capture this place a couple of days before we came here but they were repulsed by the Garrison in short order, and without any ceremony.

They are constructing a Fort here on St. Cloud Hill, which, when completed will make the place, with the aid of the natural defences, with a Garrison of Ten Thousand men, almost impregnable against anything except Starvation. The Fort at present, mounts Two Sixty-Fours, Four Thirty Twos (Riffled), Several Twenty Four's, and room enough, in a case of necessity, to mount about One hundred pieces of Light Artillery. It will be Several months yet, before they will have it completed. When the Rebels left here last Spring, they threw a great many Canons into the River. Those have been taken out, unspiked, and are set in position about the city. Besides these, there are several Batteries of Siege guns besides a quite a number of pieces of light Artillery.

Yesterday there was a grand review of the Troops here by Genl. Rosecrans, which is indicative of a forward movement. Before a great while, there has been quite a Rebel force, lying at, and this side, of Murfreesboro. But I presume they have moved, or are now moving towards a more congenial Climate. Perhaps they think they can see just as well a little farther back. But, if they should choose to remain here, they will no doubt see the Animals before a great while.

As we were passing through this City, last Spring, one of the Southern Rights Ladies remarked "There goes the Northern Caravan," to which one of the Drivers responded with "yes Marm, the last time we performed, was at Ft. Donaldson". The Lady very quikly disappeared.

Shut up in a silent room, undisturbed by the busy clamor of an Army in the Field.

Now, in regard to those Newspapers you asked about, We get a quite a variety here, as a general thing, and they are Sugared on about as many different sides, with but a few exceptions. We get the Chicago Tribune, which is slightly Sugared on the Abolition Side. We get the Nashville Union, and the Louisville Journal, which are Sugared on the Union side, we get the Louisville Democrat, and the Chicago Times, they have a double coat on the opposite side, in other words, the side favoring the Rebellion. We get the Missouri Republican, and the Cincinnati Enquirer, and the Commercial, those are the best for information, as they don't use the Sugar on either side. (and we get Lagrange Union which is the very Sugar itself). We also get a great many others, too numerous to mention. In fact, we can get almost any Newspaper, for the small sum of One Dime only, that is, at present, but it is only once in a great while that we can get them as plentifuly as we can at the present time. It is only while we are living in Camp for some length of time, that we are blessed with this privelige. When we leave this place, perhaps the only Newspaper we will see for Months will be the Nashville Union, which scarcely ever narrates any occurrences transpiring outside the limits of its own City… I believe I have carried the Newspaper controversy about far enough, so I will change the subject onto something that has not yet been Sugared over deep enough to make it satisfactory to all parties concerned. I will begin with

In regard to raising Money for Blin, if Frank wants to sell that Forty Acres, and he can get a chance, I don't want him to hesitate any, on my account, at all. He must do with the property as he thinks best, and rest assured, you will never hear any complaints from me, but my opinion is, it would be policy to sell that Forty, if you can get a fair price for it, in Money, or anything that you can convert into Money, in a short time. For, unless you can manage,in some way, to get some one in that neighborhood interested in that lot of land, it will always be a source of trouble to you, for they will pasture their Cattle in there, as long, as, by so doing, it does themselves no injury.

I wish I could have known that Plin was in want of some money, a week sooner. I would have reenlisted, for, by so doing, I could have sent you $200, but the time for Reenlisting is past now, so we will have to look some other way. If there is a chance to sell that land, I think Frank had better do so, at all events. As far as I am conserned, I want he should do as he thinks best.

When you write again, let me know how much money Plin wants at present, and, also, what success you have in getting it for him by the way, I sent $25 in a letter about Two weeks ago, let me know if that gets home safe.

Now, Mother, I don't want you to go to Hoeing in the Garden this Spring, before the Frost is out of the Ground, and try and see if you cant get along just as well and not work as hard as you generally do. I think it would be a great deal better for you.

Tell Ida, I thank her very much, for that Picture she sent me, but I don't know who to compliment for the other one.

As I have no news to write, and it is getting rather late, I will bring my letter to a close. I send my best.

I heard heavy Canonading about Ten Oclock last night, to the Southwest, perhaps about twenty-five miles distant, but I have heard nothing of it today.

The News from the east look rather gloomy at present, but if General Dix should be successful in getting into the – it will make a great change in affairs, but I am afraid that genl. Dix is not where he is represented to be ..

I received an unexpected visit, last Sunday, from Mr. K. E. Baldwin, the young man that came from Fremont with E. Gibbs Ed Gibbs is in the 10th Ill light but is now detailed to Co. E 1st Battallion Pioneer Corps.. He says he has not heard from Ed Gibbs for several years, nor from his home either.. I presume you remember that Id and Mr Baldwin to have been married, when he went back to Fremont, but her parents raised some foundless objections on his return, so that the engagement was broken.. I guess that Mr Baldwin has not heard from Id since then.. Baldwin wrote his folks – telling them what he thought of them, and has not wrote to them since then.. he don't know where Id is, and wants you to write me her address. Please tell me where to direct his letter.

I will send $35 in this letter. It is rather risky, sending it in a letter, but I have no use for it here, and you kneed it at home. Let me know as soon as possible, if you receive it.

Nashville, Tennessee

Brother Frank,

I received Susans letter of - - last evening by Charles Buck, who returned to the Company yesterday. Capt. Dawson and about Fifty recruits, also returned.

I have received one letter from Susan of a later date, which I believe I answered on the 4th Dec.

I received those Boots, by Charlie, but they are rather to small for me, tho I think I can wear them.

There are no news of any importance here, at present, we (our Brigade) were out forageing yesterday, in plain sight of the Rebel Pickets, they did not molest us. After our train was loaded and started for Camp, Capt. Edgerbon's Battery, paid them its respects, from a Twelve Pounder Howitzer, giving them 4 or 5 Shels: the Rebels followed us to Genl. Sheridan's picket line, but I presume they dident like the Chink we gave them for their Forage, as they undertook to send it back last knight, comeing up on the Murfreesboro Pike, about 7 ½ Oclock, and either Shelling the pickets in front of, or else Shelling the Camp of Genl. Vancleve. I don't know the result, but there was a brisk Canonadeing on both sides for a short time, with considerable firing on picket during the Knight.

The outposts of the two Armies, here, are only about one mile apart, and is unknown to us, how soon we may have a collision. Genl. VanDorn is reported, manuviring up from Stevenson with Fifty Thousand Men.

The Rebels may, possibly attack us here, but I don't think there will be much fighting done this side of Murfreesboro, and perhaps not this side of Tullahoma.

I am afraid the Country begins to see, or rather, I think the Country beging to see its fault in removing Genl. McClellan from his command. Altho Genl. Burnside may be as good a Genl. As McClellan is, yet he has commited one great error in the commencement of his career, which more than overbalanced all that Genl. McClellan ever commited. And that ever was, in trying to carry the Enemies position at Fredricsburg, without the aid of Counterworks, which, McClellan, with his better judgment, would never have undertaken. Let it cost what (Feblie Slander) it might.

The weather is quite moderate at present. Showers of rain are becoming more frequent, and occasionally we get a little Snow mixed with the rain.

The health is good at present. This leaves me well, and hopeing will find all well at home.

As you will receive this about the 25th, I wish you a merry Christmas

Dear Sister,

I received yours of the 19th last evening. I had intended to start home today, but they will not issue any more Furloughs this week, as they are agoing to muster tomorrow, so I can not come this week.

They will issue Furloughs next week, again, so you can look for me that Thursday.

I think I will be at home by that time without fail.

I have been Sick for a few days past, but have got about well again. Hopeing that I will soon have the privilige of conversing with you by a shorter method than the Pen. I will bring this to a close.

Dear Sister

I received yours of July 31st. today, and am thankful that the "Old folks at home" are all, as yet, among the living, and I hope this may find them, all, enjoying good health..

There are no news of importance in this Department, at present. We are under marching Orders now, and I suppose Troops are marching forward, in front, but we don't know any of the movements, here, untill they are begun, or perhaps, not untill after they are completed.

I presume you don't hear of any contemplated moovements, in this Department, you only hear of those that have bin accomplished, and that accounts for the Rebels being taken by surprise; in our late forward movement, while, under Buel's administration, it was impossible to surprise them, they knew where every picket post was, a the strength there of. If a Forage Train was to be sent out, they knew where it was agoing, and whether it would be safe to attack it or not. If we were short of Rations, they knew it as soon as we did. But since Rosecrans has been in command here, it has been different..

The country, in the Rebel dominions, and more especialy in Tennessee, is becomeing frightfuly desolated. The refugees, here are merely the shadows of hard times.

If you could see the half clad women and children, you would not wonder that they think we wear fine clothes. As a Lady remarked to her companions, (at Shelbyville, Tenn.) (as our Cavalry were charging the Rebels through Town, double quick),, the nasty things wear fine clothes, dont they Sarrah,,

I believe I have nothing interesting to write, so I will bring this to a close. I am in good health at present, and hope this will find you enjoying the same blessing.

I sent some Photographs of some of our Generals, to Ella. Let me know if you received them.

I send my best respects to all enquireing friends,

Dear Mother,

I received your letter of Feb 21st. to day. I was very glad to hear that the majority of the folks at home, are in good health, and I hope this may find you in much better health, than you were when you wrote.

My health has been very good, this winter. I have scarsely been Sick a day, during the past Four Months, and, in fact, I never enjoyed better health, in my life..

There are no news of any importance at present, with us. There has been some fighting down near Dalton, the 30th Regt. Skirmished with the Enemy, Two days, near there, and there was some severe fighting farther to the right, I was not out with the Regiment, I think the moovement was only a feint, to draw their attention this way.. In regard to our being at liberty when our term of enlistment shal have expired. I suppose it is undoubtedly true, unless we choose to join the Veteran service for Three Years longer, which, I think the greater part of this Regt, will do. But as far as the end of the war, that depends almost altogether upon how mutch France is interested in the affair, it is within her power, to make short work of this Rebellion, or, if she chooses, she can yet make it one of the most Bloody contests on Record. But, take away her influence, and you have taken away the last hope the despondent Confederacy has in view. Her French Armadia Sinks beneath the Waves of Delusion.. We are at present, enjoying ourselves very well, Health good, weather fair, and full Rations.

We have had no Snow yet, and I dont think we will have any this Winter.

Our Regt. & the 77th Penn. Were not at the last Battle, but the other Regts. Of this Brig. Were. They have since returned.

It seems that my letters do not all reach their destination, but I hope this one will not fly the track, for they are a long time on the road, at best.

It will be some time, before the Carr's can run to Chattanooga. I think a month, at least, but I think they are very well supplied with Rations, there, now. Respects to all enquireing Friends, hoping this may find all enjoying good health, and comfort, you have my best wishes for your future happiness.

Brother Frank,

I received your letter of Feb 29th three days ago, but have not had time to answer it, sooner. I was glad to hear that all were well at home, and hope this may also find all enjoying good health.

Times are as dull as ever here, there being nothing to break the Lazy Spel which has been hanging over Camp, for several days.

I was on picket yesterday, and could hear heavy Canonading in the direction of Tunnell Hill, and the Picketts said it was mutch heavier the day before, but I have not heard who it was that done the fireing.

We are haveing very fine weather now, altho it is accompanied with the oldfashioned March Winds. Yet it has not been cold enough to freeze water, for several days, nor I dont think it will be again this Spring.

I think it would be the best thing you can do with that East 40 of the Marsh, to sell it, altho it is the best lot of the Two. Yet the other can soon be made as good as that is, and mutch more convenient to get at, and, if you cant raise grass enough on it, reduce the stock of Cattle down until you can. It costs 25 per cent more to raise Cattle, than you can get for them after you have raised them, while Hogs & Sheep can be raised at about half the cost, and there will be a large demand for Horses for the next Five Years, and perhaps longer. Hogs & Sheep will be in good demand as long as the War lasts, especially Sheep. I should not be surprised if Wool would be worth 90 cts to $1.00 per pound this Summer.

When you write again, let me know what success you have in raising Money for Plin, about the amount you can send him, whither you have any Wheat on hand or not.

Thi leaves me in good health.

No more at present.

Yours Respectfully,
Sam Shepardson

Dear Sister,

I received your letter of April 21, several days ago, but, owing to our moving, I have not had time to answer it sooner. I also received one yesterday, by Wm. Hall, and this will at present, have to answer for both.

There are no news at present, except that we have a very powerful Army on the moove. What the result will be, remains an unsolved problem.

The Veterans of Ohio Regt. Returned yesterday, arriving just in time for the Battle (if we should have one here).

I have received several letters from about home, since we started on this March, but I have no time to answer them now..

The Catoosa Springs have been a Watering place for the Southern people, (In better Days, now gone,"puff", Forever). I believe there are about Thirty diferent Springs, (with properties ranging from Emetie, to Cathartic) but, in order to learn how far a Supersticious persons imagination, will act upon his stomach. All you want to do is to take the board with "Emelie" written on it, and place it to any one of the Springs, and, I'll warrant, it will have the desired affect.. the Spring that attracts the most attention, has on the board the high flown Insignia "Chantmobousga", if you begin with the c & take every second letter through the word, you will find it spells the name of the Springs, and the remaining letters spells the most essential property of the whole establishment, - Humbug.

I have not time to write any mopre at present.

Hoping this may find all well at Home.

Brother Frank,

I shal not start for home until next Thursday. I am helping Cap. Dawson finish up his papers, and will not get them done sooner.

I expect Cap. Will go up to Lagrange with me, then, and I want to coax him home with me a day or two.

If you see any of the Boys that belong to the Company, Tell them that Piatt has got back, and is Mustered out. He was Taken Prisoner at Jonesboro.

I am well, and, hopeing this may find all enjoying the same blessing, at home.

I remain
Yours Respectfully

If it were not that you desire an immediate answer I should wait a few weeeks to see if any change in affairs would give me better prospects of earning an honest living. My proffesion is an honorable and good one but at the present time it is overrun by pilots of every description made during the War for the purpose of maning the gunboats and transports of the U. S. Government having no real acquired knowledge of navigation of the rivers.

There is also a strong prejudice existing among some and many of the boat owners and lumberman against any one who was ever a Rebel

This in addition to – to my not being able to work for the last two Years has straightened me out so that now I am able to work. It may be sometime before I can find employment. My being a cripple does not in reality hinder me from working at my trade but the trouble is to find employment at the only thing I can work at in my crippled condition. As long as I had two good arms I always knew how to get a dollar, that was by working for it.

When the Ball National opened I was in Gainsville Miss selling Ice for a company I finished my business there and intend returning to St. Louis but there was an embargo laid on all travel from one state to another and I went on White River and followed my trade for one year on that stream. At the end of that time we were driven into the next river below which is arkansas. There I became Captain of the steamer I was on in the White River and followed that river until the fall of Arkansas Post. I sold the Boat which belonged to a Friend and retired with his family into the country some fifty miles south of Pine Bluff in arkansas. There I became witness of such disgraceful senes by the Federal authorities and soldirng. That determined me to enlist as Private in the Confederate Army in which I served until wounded at Jefferson City, Mo. During Prices noted raid.

Do not spend any money to come here to see me for it would be only a momentary gratification and you would only see the – being you have – been – not a bit changed except a little more – and a few more teeth gone, and my left hand a little crippley so you see (I am Young yet)

I have a notion to come and spank some of our Daughters. Only they are getting most to old for me.

I never was married and do not want a wife to be over sixteen.

If I ever see you I will give a complete history of what remains in my mind of the incidents of the field. If any one coming to Saint Louis should wish to find me I am some times stopping on the levee at my bording House. If not there, sometimes I stop at Bissels Point three miles above the Court House at the fartherest house on the street leading from the Rolling mill to the River at David Shaws who generally knows where I am if on the river. Sometimes I bord with him. The reason why I never recd letters from you for several Years before the grand nigger war was becaus of my being most time on the river and the Postal law for advertising letters at that time now however there is a city delivery which does better.

Give my Affectionate Esteem to Mother

E. O. Shepardson

I belonged to Munros Regiment of rawhides or first arkansas Cavalry and fought honorably with seventy honorable men and with – Patrotic motives.

Most respectfully

E. O. S.

I was in 7 Battles – and all the skirmishing which occured during our raid through missouri and never was taken prisoner nor turned my back to my enemys until after I was shot and that was in a regular retreat. I had my choice after being shot to ride my horse (a noble animal) to Shreveport la from Jeff City or be left in hospital and taken prisoner. I chose the first and swung my arm around my neck and mounted my horse and rode every day. I never fought east of the Mississippi river. I never saw but one man fall that I aimed at and the thougt flashed through my mind at that moment, suppose that man was my brother. The next instant I received a ball which made me grunt and say I dam you. May be that my brother, so we are even and I hope you are as well as is myself.

A QUOTE FROM THEODORE F. UPSON WHO LIVED AT LIMA:

Father and I were husking some corn. We could not finish before it wintered up. When William Cory came across the field (he had been down after the mail). He was excited and said, “Jonathon, the Rebs have fired upon and taken Fort Sumpter.” Father got white and couldn’t say a word.

William said, “The President will soon fix them. He has called for 75,000 men and is going to blockade their ports, and just As those fellows find out that the North means business they will get down off their high horse.”

Father said little. We did not finish the corn and drove to the barn. Father left me to unload and put out the team, and he went to the house. After I had finished I went in to dinner. Mother said, “What is the matter with father?” He had gone right upstairs. I told her what we had heard. She went to him. After a while they came down. Father looked ten years older. We sat down at the table. Grandma wanted to know what was the trouble. Father told her and she began to cry. “Oh my poor children in the South! How they will suffer! I knew it would come! Jonathan, I told you it would come!

“They can come here and stay”, said father.

“No, they will not do that. There is their home. There they will stay. Oh, to think that I should have lived to see the day when brother should rise against brother!”

GLOSSARY:

ADJUTANT -- An officer who handles communications, correspondence, orders, and records.

ANASARCA -- Dropsy of the or water throughout the flesh. It implies a more generalized term than dropsy or oedema.

ARTIFICER -- A person who performs maintenance on artillery equipment.

ARTILLERY -- The branch of service that uses cannons.

BATTALION -- A military unit made up of about four companies.

BREVIT -- The commission of an officer to a higher rank without higher pay; usually preformed in the field.

BRIGADE -- A military unit made up of about five regiments.

CASHIER OUT -- To dismiss an officer with disgrace.

CATARRH -- A state of irritation of the mucous membranes, particularly those of the air passages, associated with a copious secretion of mucus. This complaint, so prevalent in damp and cold weather, usually begins as a nasal catarrh or coryza, with a feeling of weight about the forehead and some difficulity in breathing through the nose, increased on lying down. Fits of sneezing, accompanied with a profuse watery discharge from the nostrils and eyes, soon follow, with the sense of smell and to some extent, that of taste become considerably impared. Sore throat, fever, and bronchial irritation may occur, causing hoarseness and cough. Sometimes the vocal apparatus becomes so inflamed that temporary loss of voice results. After two or three days the symptoms begin to abate, though sometimes infection spreads to the lungs.

CAVALRY -- The branch of service that moves and functions on horseback.

COMMISSIONED -- Receiving a rank by receiving a presidential certificate authorizing the rank. The commissioned ranks are lieutenant and higher.

COMPANY -- A military unit made up of about 100 individuals.

COOPER -- A person who makes wooden buckets and barrels.

DESERTION -- Being absent from the service without permission.

DETACHED SERVICE -- Having duty which temporarily removes the soldier from his regular duties.

DIVISION -- A military unit made up of about three regiments.

DROPSY -- Abnormal collections of fluid in any part of the body.

ERYSIPELAS -- A streptococcal infection of the skin, characterized by unilateral, clearcut lesions, usually on the face or a leg. It usually occurs in people over forty years old. The organism enters the skin via a minor abrasion and infects the superficial lymphatic vessels. It presents as a bright red, swollen patch, painful and tender, associated with fever, malaise, and leucocytosis. Initially circumscribed, erysipelas tends to spread, until most of the leg on one side of the face may become involved. Treatment should be started immediately with full doses of penicillin.

EXCHANGED -- As in prisoner exchange; when the Federals and Confederates would trade prisoners.

FURLOUGH -- An authorized absence for a specific period of time.

GRAND ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC -- The Civil War veterans association for ex-soldiers whose allegiance was to the Union. The veterans organization for Confederates was the Confederates Veterans Association.

HUCKSTER -- A peddler of wares of fruits and vegetables.

INFANTRY -- The branch of service in which the people served on foot. The foot soldier.

LIVERY STABLE -- The place where horses are housed and fed, for a price.

LUNG FEVER -- Pneumonia.

MINOR -- In reference to the method the term is used in the pension records, it is a person other than the soldier, his widow, his mother and father. It may be a guardian, a child of the soldier, or a friend.

MUSTER IN/OUT -- The swearing of an oath of allegiance when enlisting in or receiving a discharge from the service.

OBLIQUE FIRE -- When shooting, instead of shooting straight in front of the rifleman, he is shooting at about 45 degrees to either his left or right.

PALPITATION OF THE HEART -- Rapid often irregular heartbeat.

PAROLE -- The release of a military prisoner on the condition that he makes certain promises such as taking no further military action.

PARRIED -- To deflect an impending blow by a sword.

PROVOST GUARD -- Military police.

QUARTERMASTER -- The person in charge of supplies and materials.

RANK (MILITARY) -- from lowest to highest:

private corporal
sergeant
1st sergeant
sergeant major
2nd lieutenant
1st lieutenant captain
major lieutenant colonel colonel
brigadier general
major general
lieutenant general

RECRUIT -- A new member of a military unit. To enlist new people into military units.

REDROVER HOSPITAL BOAT -- The steamship Red Rover was designed for patients who needed long term care. It was converted to a hospital ship from a Confederate sidewheel steamboat which was captured when Island Number 10 on the Mississippi River fell to the Union on April 7, 1862, and was to become the Unions first hospital boat. It was the most advanced and "state of the art" hospital ship of the time, and was outfitted with elevators, two water closets on each deck, a storage room which held 300 tons of ice, and gauze blinds on the windows for protection against cinders from the smokestacks. It was run by a crew of 12 officers and 35 men, along with a medical staff of 30 to 40 men and there were several nuns of The Sisters of the Holy Cross, who also served aboard the boat. The Red Rover was not only a hospital boat but also carried one 32-pounder gun and for a time served as a guard ship at the mouth of the White River. At times, the boat did extra duty as a store ship for the Mississippi Squadron. When the last patients left the ship on November 17, 1865, nearly 3,000 patients had been treated on board. It cost about $2 to $3 per patient per week aboard navy hospitals during the war. The Hospital Fund was supposed to cover the medical expenses for patients aboard medical boats.

REDUCED TO RANKS -- The term for being demoted to rank of private.

REGIMENT -- A military unit made up of ten or twelve companies.

RE-ORGANIZED -- As such – and – such regiment re-organized. Occasional "re-doing" of a regiment due to the loss of men, etc.

SCORBUTUS -- A medieval Latin term for scurvy, meaning rupture of the belly. The use of the term probabl arose from the appearance of the swollen bellies which might have seemed about to burst.

SCURVY -- A disease caused by a lack of vitamin Cin the body. It is characterized by bleeding gums, anemia, and weakness.

SHARPSHOOTERS -- A unit made up of men who were good marksmen and as such were supplied with excellent Sharps rifles and these men often functioned as snipers.

SKIRMISH -- A brief engagement between small groups. It may be a part of a large engagement.

STEWARDS (HOSPITAL) -- Men who tended the wounded, assisted surgeons, and performed other medical functions.

SUBSTITUTE -- A person who served in another persons place. A substitute was usually paid a fee by the person he substituted for.

VETERAN -- A person who has completed his term of service.

VETERANS RESERVE CORPS -- The military unit made up of men who, due to disability, were not able to serve in active duty. They served behind the lines in many functions. Men whose terms of enlistment were up but still wanted to serve were also allowed to serve in the V. R. C.

WAGONER -- A person who drives a wagon.
